3 Manus

3.1 At Border Station

"You must be the new pilot, right?" A middle aged man eyes you carefully.

"I am Berr, and I am coordinating the pilots here at Border Station."

"Previously, my job was to keep track of our transport ships. Lately rebels has become an increasing problem. Both here and in the rest of the sector."

"Currently a small rebel fleet is hiding in a nearby asteroid belt"

"They are not a threat against the Border Station itself, but they raid and plunder ships and transports that travel between the Border Station and the planet Lavis."

"We must stop them now, before they do any more damage."

"A small fleet will soon leave to search the asteroid belt for rebels. You should join them. You might learn a thing or two."

3.2 Outside Border Station

[Captain] "Another rookie? Fantastic! Stay close to us veterans, and you might even be helpful!"

[Captain] "We are leaving now. Over and out."

3.3 Travelling to Meteor Belt

[Sair] "So this seems to be going quite well. I hope you are focused."

[Sair] "I would really dislike getting holes blasted in the hull."

[Captain] "So rookie. I see you have one of those silly talking ships?"

[Captain] "Bahaha! Don't let it distract you."

[Sair] "..."

3.4 At Asteroid Belt

[Captain] "Let's see.."

[Captain] "According to our scans, this rebel group should have much weaker weapons than us."

[Captain] "This will probably be an easy mission, but let's stay cautious."

[Captain] "They often make up for their poor firepower by sheer numbers."

[Captain] "We want to shoot down as many of them as possible, but rather let a rebel ship slip through than take a hit."

[Captain] "The goal is to scare them off, not to eradicate them."

... Level begins ...

[Captain] "Stay clear of those asteroids. Don't waste your energy on them."

[Captain] "Here they come! Stay close, shoot down as many as you can."

[Captain] "Remeber, you fire through pressing and holding the ACTION-KEY1."

[Captain] "Give them hell rookie, give them hell."

...Level ends...

[Captain] "That's a job well done!"

[Captain] "That should keep them away for a while. Well done rookie. Your [number of shot down ships] downed ships really made a difference."

[Captain] "I will make sure you are rewarded accordingly. Now, let's head back to Border Station."

3.5 Travelling back from Asteroid Belt

[Sair] "That is one annoying captain..."

[Sair] "Nevertheless, the mission went well. A successful first mission."

3.6 At Border Station

You are greeted by Berr.

[Berr] "Well done, well done! Keep it up, and you will have loads of opportunities in the Alliance."

[Berr] "Here is your reward! XX rupees, plus a bonus XX for the ships you brought down."

[Berr] "This weapon could also be of use for you. It is called a 'Spread Bullet', a powerful close-range weapon."

[Berr] "You are able to equip up to two primary weapons at a time. This means you could use both the Basic Laser and the Spread bullet in a single level."

[Berr] "You can toggle between your equipped weapons during a level using ACTIONKEY2."

Berr expression turns more serious. He looks thoughtful.

[Berr] "The sector is troubled right now. Resources are running out one after another, and rebels attacks get more frequent."

[Berr] "The Alliance is doing its best to keep up, but we are slowly losing control over the sector. It's hard to defend everyone from the rebel raids"

[Berr] "A pilot like you would really be helpful."

[Berr] "You should go to Highfence. A woman called Ai currently leads their military operations."

[Berr] "She will certainly have some work for you. I will send her my recommendations."

[Berr] "That's all for now. Stay safe."

3.1 At Highfence

A young woman greets you. She looks at you calmly.

[Ai] "So you are the new pilot, nice to meet you. I am Ai, and I am currently responsible for the military operations around this planet."

[Ai] "Berr seemed very satisfied with your help on Border Station. He insisted that we should your skills to use."

[Ai] "Actually, your timing is perfect. We have an important transport heading for Soelara that is almost ready to leave."

[Ai] "This transport is of particular interest to us. We want to make sure that it is well protected."

[Ai] "Would you help us protect the freighter and its cargo?"

- "I would be happy to help." >Great! The captain is waiting outside. He, and the rest of the escort is ready to leave any moment.
- "Let me think about it." >I understand that. I don't think we are able to leave without higher security, so please don't take too long.

3.2 Outside Highfence

[Captain] "You look quite lost. How can I help you?"

[Captain] "..."

[Captain] "You are here to help me you say?"

[Captain] "I guess that it won't hurt with an extra ship. Make sure you don't get in the way for the other escort ships.."

[Captain] "We don't have time to wait for any longer. Let's leave now. Make sure to follow us closely."

3.3 Travelling to Soelara

[Captain] "This path used to be safe. Some years ago I could travel here with minimum protection."

[Captain] "The rebels kept in their base, close to Lavis. I think only Lavis ever had problems with them."

[Captain] "Lately they've been becoming increasingly present in all parts of the sector despite the Alliance efforts to keep them away."

[Captain] "It will take ages to unload all of this cargo."

[Captain] "I hope that I'll get at least a few hours of solid sleep before tomorrows transport to New Norrland."

[Other escort ship] "There are rebels incoming! Prepare yourselves!"

[Rebel ship] "Surrender the cargo peacefully, or we'll retrieve it from your scattered remains!"

... The rebels attack ...

[Captain] "Moronic assholes! What are they thinking? That we would just hand over our cargo, and then carry on happily?"

[Captain] "Let's hope that we won't see more of them."

[Sair] "Look, there are another group of rebels on their way. It looks like their heavier ships have arrived. Be careful!"

[Rebel ship] "We have no mercy for those who destroy our people. Prepare yourselves!"

... The rebels attack again ...

[Captain] "How can they think they are doing any good for anyone?"

[Captain] "They are killing the people who actually struggle to get the sector go around."

[Captain] "The sector is definitely better of without them."

[Captain] "We are almost there now. It looks like we will avoid further attacks."

3.4 Arrived at Soelara

The captain turns to you. He looks tired and relieved.

[Captain] "That was a close one. We might not have been able to make it without your help. Thank you."

[Captain] "We are travelling with samples of a mineral called Murt. The mineral seems to be of a great interest both for the Alliance and the rebels."

[Captain] "You should have your reward. Here is the salary as promised."

[Captain] "Also, I saw that you weren't using a shield on the way here."

[Captain] "You can use this Regular Shield. It might not be the best, but definitely better than having no shield."

[Captain] "You should return to Ai at Highfence. There is always work that needs to be done these days."

[Captain] "You have been permitted to use the Beacon outside to quickly travel back to Highfence."

[Captain] "You will be able to use them to quickly travel to locations you have visited before."

[Captain] "It usually comes to a cost though. We don't have much resources."

The captain salutes you. "Enough chit-chatting. Go now. Stay safe."

3.5 Travelling back to Highfence

[Sair] "We should use the Beacon he mentioned. I believe it is that circular structure over there."

[Sair] (During travel) I have never experienced this before. How interesting.

[Sair] It is only possible to use for transporting small ships like ours.

- o Fortrun, Ai and commander: Well done, come back later

3 Manus

3.1 At Highfence

Ai welcomes you.

[Ai] "Well done! There will be many opportunities for you here."

[Ai] "In fact, I just got the word from the Alliance command at Fortrun that there currently is a crisis on New Norrland."

[Ai] "They told us to gather as many ships as possible and meet at Fortrun immediately."

[Ai] "I will go there now. You should go too. I will see you there."

3.2 Outside Highfence

[Sair] "A new mission? Let's leave then."

[Sair] "Fortrun is usually closed for outsiders. I wonder what's going on."

3.3 At Fortrun

[Ai] "Come in, join us." Ai waves you to follow her into a crowded room.

The center of attention is an old man with a hard face. You identify him as one of the Alliance's commanders.

The commander turns to the group.

[Commander] "Some of you who knows why we have gathered here, others don't."

[Commander] "Most of you are aware of our crucial Murt-mining operations on New Norrland."

[Commander] "This operation is essential for our continued Murt-technology development."

[Commander] "The rebels have managed to take control over the entire mine, and large parts of the surrounding land."

[Commander] "This is an emergency for both us and the locals on the planet."

The commander stares at the crowd.

[Commander] "We have gathered all available pilots. We must strike hard and decisively."

[Commander] "We cannot lose this mine to the rebels, and the locals depend on our protection. We can't let them down."

[Commander] "The fleet leaders have been provided with instructions. They will further them to their respective fleets".

The commander leaves the room. A worried mumble spreads in the crowd.

[Mumble] "...they have never been so coordinated..."

[Mumble] "...what are they thinking? ...how are the locals doing?..."

Ai turns to you and the rest of her squad. She calmly looks at all of you.

[Ai] "We have to show the rebels that we are still in control. It would be a catastrophy if the largest source of Murt in the sector falls into their hands."

[Ai] "Let's strike them down, show them that they cannot be allowed to interfere with the people of this sector."

[Ai] "We will meet outside in a moment. I will give you further instructions when it is time."

Ai leaves the room.

Ai's short speech seems to have improved the mood of her squad. They seem to trust her judgement.

Some of them nod s approvingly to each other, before silently leaving for their ships.

3.4 Outside Fortrun

[Sair] "Something is different with this mission. On the previous missions, the other pilots seem s to have been quite confident about what they were getting themselves into."

[Sair] "This seems to be new and unknown for most of them. Maybe they feel that the rebels are growing out of their control. Stay safe."

[Ai] "Everyone is here? Good. Let's go. Don't stray behind."

3.5 Travelling to New Norrland

(The different squad members speak with some delay between, during travel)

[Squad member1] "..I don't know about this.. One more salary, and I would have had that Durable Shield."

[Squad member1] "Now I'm stuck with this crappy Basic Shield. It might be a matter of life and death!"

[Squad member2] "..They are getting stronger, but they still have much weaker ships than us.

[Squad member2] "They don't seem afraid of collateral damage. Keep away from those terrible mines and bombs."

[Squad member3] "..Yeah.. I heard that they have focused on building more explosives."

[Squad member3] "I have heard about ships spitting bombs that generates s huge explosions."

[Squad member3] "I think it is possible to blow up the bombs by firing at them though.."

[Squad member4] "..I wonder how they treat the civilians around the mines. Our command seems mostly worried about the mine."

[Squad member4] "There is a quite large city nearby the mine. I hope they are ok..

3.6 At New Norrland

[Ai] "It is time. Our task in this operation is to secure the mine to prevent the rebels from destroying it."

[Ai] "Then, we must hold or positions until the other squads has secured the surrounding area."

[Ai] "Intel tells us they have an increased presence of explosive ships in the area."

[Ai] "That means bomb ships and mine layers."

[Ai] "Keep mobile, and make sure you don't get trapped by their mine fields."

[Ai] "If you do, try to fire your way through."

...

[Ai] "It is time. Focus on getting through. Don't worry about shooting down more than necessary."

[Ai] "Let's go."

...Level...

[Ai] "We are through. Now we must hold our position here for long enough."

[Ai] "Another squad is on the way. Keep your focus."

...Level...

[Ai] "The area is under our control. That's a relief. Well done everyone."

3.7 Travelling to Fortrun

[Sair] "It seems like someone is trying to get through a broad-cast message."

[Civilian] "...Is this thing working?"

[Civilian] "I want to tell you wanna-be-heroes, that not everyone here approves of your presence."

[Civilian] "You don't care about the civilians, don't you?"

[Civilian] "All you care about is your mine, your profit, and to make sure you can live your cozy lives at Fortrun."

[Civilian] "People are starving here. Can't you just let us be?"

[Civilian] "The rebels aren't good either, but at least they aren't sucking out our resources under the pre..."

The connection is abruptly ended.

[Ai] "People here don't realize what we actually do for them."

[Ai] "Someone needs to be in charge to organize the sector and manage the sectors scarce resources."

[Ai] "Would anyone prefer rebel anarchy? Would they?"

...

[Sair] "I have never heard Ai sound so agitated before. Maybe it hit her in a soft spot."

3.8 At Fortrun

Ai looks at you with her usual calm face. She seems to have calmed down since the incident on New Norrland.

[Ai] "You did well back there. We suffered very low casualties compared to the rest of the squads, much thanks to you. You have grown into a skilled pilot."

[Ai] "You should get some rest. Come back here later. We will have more missions for you."

You and Ai leaves the room. You go back to your ship.

[Sair] "There seems to be a lot going on under the surface here."

[Sair] "It could be interesting asking around a bit on Fortrun and other planets, to hear what people are thinking.

[Sair] Anyway, let's get some rest."

3 Manus

3.1 At Fortrun

Ai turns to you with a serious look on her face.

[Ai] "I just returned from a meeting with the command."

[Ai] "We have a big favour to ask of you. But first I should tell you a bit more about the situation."

[Ai] "You have heard about our research on the mineral Murt."

[Ai] "We have made progress lately. We only have very small quantities of the mineral though."

[Ai] "If we manage to find greater amounts of the mineral, it would be able to really help the sector."

[Ai] "On the other hand, it could also be used for creating almost unimaginably powerful weapons, shields and bombs."

[Ai] "We have reasons to believe that there is a huge source of Murt somewhere in this sector."

[Ai] "We think the the rebels know about this."

[Ai] "If they gained access to it, it would be a catastrophy."

[Ai] "We must stop them at all costs."

[Ai] "It is here you comes in. We need an insider. Someone they can trust, who can provide us with insight in what they know and what they plan."

[Ai] "You are a skilled and trusted pilot and you are unknown to them."

[Ai] "Sometimes people leaves the Alliance and joins the rebels, fooled by their nice words. You could pretend to be one of them."

[Ai] "Our plan is to let you leak crucial information to them about a coming attack against one of their outposts near Lavis."

[Ai] "You will join them during the attack. You will be sent their together with a group of suspected traitors."

[Ai] "You and the rebels will help us get rid of them, and at the same time lay a foundation of trust for you."

[Ai] "I have set up a meeting with a lower rebel leader at coordinates (X,X)."

[Ai] "You should travel there immediately, and hand him this file."

[Ai] "Then, you will travel to the outpost and join the attack fleet. I will provide you with the exact coordinates after the meeting."

She looks at you seriously. "Good luck. I will stay in touch."

3.2 Outside Fortrun

[Sair] "That was unexpected. But it might be the logical choice. Let's go meet that rebel person."

3.3 Travelling to meeting location

[Sair] "You know. This might be the last moment of stillness we get in a while."

[Sair] "You should take a moment to appreciate it."

3.4 Meeting Rok

A young man with a fierce look appears on your display.

[Rok] "So you came after all. And you seem s to have no company. Brave!"

[Rok] "Stupid, and brave.. Let's get to it. You had information. Send it over."

He speaks with a quite harsh voice. It sounds like he isn't as confident with the situation as he tries to appear.

You transfer the information.

[Rok] "..."

[Rok] "... Why would you tell us this. A change of heart you say?"

[Rok] "I have difficulties believing you."

[Rok] "..."

[Rok] "I will leave you now. If this is true, and you follow the plan through, there will be a place for you among us."

[Rok] "If not... I will make sure you regret this meeting."

[Rok] "Goodbye for now."

The screen goes blank, and the small group leaves silently.

[Sair] "That was tense. It wouldn't have been illogical for them to shoot us down at the spot."

[Ai] "..Did it go as planned? Good. Now, join the attack fleet at coordinate (X, X)."

[Ai] "There is no looking back now. This might be our best chance to get a grip on the rebels."

3.5 Travelling to attack location

[Sair] "Remember. Even if the Alliance fleet we will join consists of quite unexperienced pilots, they will have better equipment than most of the rebels we have faced this far."

[Sair] "Be careful."

3.6 Meeting attack fleet

A rough and seemingly annoyed man appears on your display.

[Attack fleet leader] "You are late, scum. What do you think this is? A walk in the park."

[Attack fleet leader] "I will not watch your back if you not are able to follow orders."

He directs his next message to the entire fleet.

[AFL] "I will not hold a fucking inspirational speech for you. Do your job, and we can go home."

[AFL] "I don't know what they are fucking thinking, sending us here. I guess someone has to do their dirty job."

[AFL] "Let's try to make this as quick as possible. Go in, destroy everything, and leave.

[AFL] "Make sure they don't have time to forward the message, or we will be swarmed by their ships on our way back."

[AFL] "Let's move out. Don't fall behind."

3.7 Attack on Alliance

... Mostly empty level ...

[AFL] "What is this? Is the station abandoned?"

Rebels appear on your radar.

[AFL] "What? We are surrounded!"

[AFL] "Someone has ratted us out. Pull out. Pull the fuck out!"

[Rok] "You came here after all. Well done. Now, let's finish this."

[Sair] "I'm not looking forward to this. Let's get this over with."

... Attack on Alliance with the rebels ...

[AFL] "Are you fucking kidding me? What are you doing, idiot?"

[AFL] "What did they promise you? Gold and happiness?"

[AFL] "Oh, your dreams will turn to ashes. You will regret this. You will really regret."

A rebel bomb interrupts the attack fleet leader's inspirational speech.

[Rok] "Don't let them escape. Let's pay back for all that they have done to us."

... The connection was aborted. The level begins, and ends ...

Rok appears, looking relieved and excited.

[Rok] "Amazing job my friend! We really got them there."

[Rok] "They will think twice before attacking us again."

[Rok] "We would not have been able to do this without you. We really appreciate it."

[Rok] "A small, but significant step towards liberating the people. Thank you."

[Rok] "Travel to the coordinates (X,X). There you will find our base."

[Rok] "I will tell you more about us, and you will tell us more about you."

[Rok] "You will get a place among us rebels. You will not regret this choice. See you later!"

3.8 Travel with rebels to base

[Ai] "It went as expected? Good.

[Ai] "I feel slightly bad for putting you through this, but it was a necessity."

[Ai] "I'm sure you understand."

[Ai] "Don't get fooled by them. Many of them themselves believe that they are standing for good and justice.

[Ai] "Remember all the people they plundered and murdered around the system."

[Ai] "I wish you the best of luck. Contact me immediately when you find anything useful."

..connection ended..

3 Manus

3.1 Arriving at Rebel Station

Rok turns to you with a wide smile.

[Rok] "Friend! Welcome! I am very glad to have you here. We need people like you. People that aren't afraid to do what must be done."

[Rok] "The people here are poor and frustrated with how the Alliance keeps using their strength to exploit us."

[Rok] "We need more skilled pilots to be able to fight back. Like you!"

[Rok] "And I'm sure your insight into the Alliance will prove to be very useful..."

[Rok] "Actually, we need your help right now."

[Rok] "We are planning to raid a transport travelling between Soelara and Fortrun which we believe carries a particularly large batch of Murt."

[Rok] "Have you heard about Murt? It is said to be the energy source of the future."

[Rok] "Both us and the Alliance are looking into it. The scientists on Peye are also researching it, but they are very restrictive in what information they share."

[Rok] "It could be the single factor that determines the future path of the sector. We must do what we can to prevent the Alliance from gaining further insight into it."

[Rok] "I will mark the coordinates for the attack on your map. You will meet the rest of the fleet at that location."

[Rok] "Some of us are still sceptical of your presence here. This might be the chance to prove where your true allegience lies."

3.2 Outside station

[Ai] "...They are planning an attack on the freighter?"

[Ai] "It is surprising that they know about the transport. They must have more insiders than we know about..."

[Ai] "I will look into it. You should participate in the raid as planned."

[Ai] "You can't do anything erratic now. I will see what I can do about the content of it."

3.3 Ambush location

[Rebel] "So! You are the new cape-turner."

[Rebel] "Heard you worked for the Alliance for a while, but got cold feet?"

[Rebel] "I guess they aren't as pretty as they try to look. Only caring about the rich. Leaving us poor to starvation."

[Rebel] "You are very welcome. Your help is appreciated."

...

[Rebel] "Do you prefer ranged weapons like Ballistic Laser, or close combat weapons like Spread Bullet?"

[Rebel] "You know, if you ask me weapons like Ballistic Laser and Beam are for meakling, afraid of taking a few hits."

[Rebel] "I hope I have enough money to buy a proximity laser one day. That would be fantastic."

...

[Rebel] "Lately the Alliance has made a lot of development on their stealth technology."

[Rebel] "The fleet protecting the freighter might have some of those ships.
[Rebel] "Keep your eyes sharp. They are not invisible, but very hard to see!"

...
[Rebel] "I can see them on my radar now.
[Rebel] "Remember, we are only here for the cargo. Hit it fast and hard, and then leave."
[Rebel] "No need to hold back though, hit those bastards where it hurts!"
[Rebel] "Here it goes, for the people!"
... Mission ...
[Rebel] "Surrender the cargo peacefully, and you will come to no harm..."
[Alliance] "Do you believe that bullshit yourselves? You are going down with us."

...
[Rebel] "We've got the cargo. Pull out! Pull out!"
[Rebel] "Their reinforcements must be on their way. We'll meet at the base."

3.4 Travelling back to Rebel Station

[Sair] "I don't like those high-odds operations. If the Alliance hangar ships would have arrived a bit earlier we would have been done for..."
[Sair] "We threw the right side of the dice this time."
[Sair] "We should meet Rok at the rebel base, see what he has to say."

3.5 Back at the Rebel Station

Rok greets you.
[Rok] "I heard it was a close call. But what's important is that you got out, and that you have the cargo."
[Rok] "Let's see if it proves to be as valuable as we hope. They are searching the cargo right now."
He looks thoughtful.
[Rok] "I don't like how the Alliance have been acting lately."
[Rok] "The transport seemed to be of high importance for them. But if the cargo was really important for them, the escort security should have been even higher."
[Rok] "This didn't seem like a crucial piece for them, and that worries me..."
[Rok] "You should get some rest while you can. Come back then."

[Rok] "Hopefully they'll manage to extract some useful information about the cargo, maybe a lead on what we should do next."

3.1 Rebel Station

Rok greets you. He looks worried.

[Rok] "Welcome back. It is good that you came so quickly."

[Rok] "We didn't find much Murt in the cargo. It seems like they unloaded right before leaving.."

[Rok] "On the other hand, we found some interesting conversations in their log system."

[Rok] "They spoke about a group of scientists living near Peye, who have been scanning the solar system for Murt."

[Rok] "They have no particular allegiance, neither to the Alliance or us rebels, but have lately been depending on a small Alliance fleet for their protection."

[Rok] "According to the logged conversation it seems like the group has located a massive amount of Murt."

[Rok] "They seem hesitant to share this information with the Alliance though. They seem worried that the Alliance would use the Murt for military purposes."

[Rok] "Naturally, the Alliance is very upset about this, and is currently pressuring the scientists to share their information. It is probably only a matter of time before they get what they want."

[Rok] "That's why we have to act now, as quick as possible."

[Rok] "We have the name of one scientist that seems to be of high importance - Ente."

[Rok] "He has been deeply involved in the Murt research, and is said to be very sceptical of their relationship to the Alliance. "

[Rok] "We want to bring him here, and to have a.. chat with him."

[Rok] "We will send a small group of ships to slip through the Alliance's defenses around the research station, extract Ente, and return him here."

[Rok] "The idea is simple, but this will likely be a highly dangerous mission."

[Rok] "You should prepare yourself properly. The rest of the fleet will be waiting close to the rebel base."

3.2 Outside Rebel Station

[Sair] "'Bring him here to have a chat with him', that sounds really sinister to me.."

[Sair] "We shouldn't let our guards down. Remember why we are here."

[Sair] "We should speak to Ai. Let's do it when we aren't so close to the other ships."

...

[Rebel] "All here? Good."

[Rebel] "We'll move as one unit until we have passed the Alliance defenses around the station."

[Rebel] "Then we'll split up and search for that scientist."

[Rebel] "When he is found, send a signal to all others, and we will all try to pull out as quick as possible."

[Rebel] "This is a high-risk mission. I doubt that all of us will come back."

[Rebel] "But I'm sure that some of us will, and that they will continue to do what they can for the people."

[Rebel] "I have no more words for you. Good luck friends."

3.3 To Peye, interaction

[Ai] ... "You are seriously going to try to extract Ente?"

[Ai] "That's a suicide mission.. Even if some of you managed to slipped in through the defenses, you would never be able to escape."

[Ai] "We have several Hangar ships stationed around the research station. When alerted, they would surround the station, cutting of all exit paths."

[Ai] "But an interesting thought occured to me."

[Ai] "The scientists know^s something that they won't share with us. Maybe Ente is willing to share with the rebels."

[Ai] "Then the rebels could lead us there.."

[Ai] "I need to speak to the command. I will be back in a moment."

...

[Sair] "It is a risky plan, to let the rebel get the information about Murt, and then shadow them to the location."

[Sair] "But it might actually work.."

...

[Ai] "I have spoken to the command. I have got green light to go ahead with the plan."

[Ai] "I will try to distract the defenses around the station."

[Ai] "It will still be challenging to get through. But not suicidal. You will make it. Good luck."

3.4 To Peye, battle

[Rebel] "It seems like we have reached their defenses. The goal is to slip through. Don't do anything risky."

... Level ...

[Rebel] "Seems like most of us got through. We are tougher than they think!"

[Rebel] "Now, let's search the station."

[Rebel] "If you find Ente, send the signal. If you receive the signal, pull out as quickly as possible."

3.5 At Peye Outpost - Ente

[Sair] "Let's see. Let's explore that smaller building outside the complex."

... Ship landed ...

You quickly walk into the building, looking around, searching for the man in the picture you saw.

A man appears in one of the door openings. He looks surprised, and a bit nervous. You ask him if he is Ente.

[Ente] "Well, yes, I am."

[Ente] "I must say I am a bit surprised by your visit. Can you tell me, who might you be?"

[Ente] "No, don't tell me. Let me guess."

[Ente] "..."

[Ente] "Are you yet another Alliance coming here to persuade me of sharing my information?"

[Ente] "You look too inexperienced for that. Maybe you are something else."

[Ente] "A rebel? Probably a rebel. But somehow something about you feels... different."

...

[Ente] "You are here to bring me to the Rebel Station you say?"

[Ente] "But your eyes tells me something else."

[Ente] "You don't really know why you are here. You are confused. You wonder what's really going on."

[Ente] "I will assume my observations are correct. I will tell you a little bit more. Maybe we can even help each other here."

[Ente] "As you know, I am a scientist."

[Ente] "As you also probably know, I am part of a group that are researching Murt."

[Ente] "We are developing and testing scanners able to detect and locate Murt."

[Ente] "Up until now only small amounts has been found at a time around the system."

[Ente] "This has been very useful for research, but we have only found very small amounts."

[Ente] "Up until recently, that is."

[Ente] "Our scans have shown us a asteroid containing a massive amount of Murt."

[Ente] "It is thousands of times more than what we have found up until now combined. It is an unimaginable source of power."

[Ente] "In the right hands, it could be an immense help for the people of the sector."

[Ente] "In the wrong hands... It could be used for such destruction."

[Ente] "..."

[Ente] "You realize the problem here, don't you?"

[Ente] "Currently the whole sector is in conflict. Rebels and Alliance struggle for the control."

[Ente] "The Alliance want to assert full control in order to achieve a nicely controlled sector."

[Ente] "The rebels on the other hand resent this. They want freedom, to let each planet walk its own path, and are willing to sacrifice the order of the sector for that freedom."

[Ente] "Which way is better? I can't say. What I know is that as it looks now, Murt will be used as a tool of war."

[Ente] "We must put the Murt to use, but we must put it to good use."

[Ente] "So what is my suggestion? We must hide the Murt."

[Ente] "Hide it."

[Ente] "Hide it until the sector is ready to handle it."

[Ente] "When the sector stabilizes one day, in ten or a hundred years, we can bring it out in the open."

Ente eyes you curiously.

[Ente] "You know. I am telling you all this for a reason."

[Ente] "I want your cooperation."

[Ente] "All of this information will leak to the Alliance and the rebels eventually."

[Ente] "We must hide Murt away before that happens."

[Ente] "To do this, you will need to access one of our information centrals."

[Ente] "There you will find information about where to find the technology, as well as the exact location of the meteor."

[Ente] "You should bring me to the Rebel Base. Then you should go to the information hub."

[Ente] "I will not leak crucial information until I know that you have finished your mission."

[Ente] "By then it will be too late for them to do anything about it."

[Ente] "Let's go"

The strange man hurries before you up into the ship.

...

[Sair] "What a strange man. Nevertheless, it seems the most logical path for us to at least initially follow his plan."

[Sair] "We can always share the information with Ai or Rok later on."

[Sair] "I'll send the signal to the other rebels. Let's move out now."

3.6 To Rebel Station, battle

[Sair] "Seems Ai wasn't as successful in diverging the Alliance attention as she hoped to be. This looks like it will be a tough one."

[Rebel] "... We have no choice but trying to break through. Good luck, everyone."

... Breaking out level, with hangar ship ...

[Rebel] "We are through! Let's meet at the Rebel Station!"

3.7 Outside the Rebel Station

[Ente] "Remember what I have told you."

[Ente] "Go to the coordinate I marked on your map. You will find more information there."

[Ente] "Make sure that you aren't followed."

[Ente] "I don't know if we will meet again. I trust that you will do what's best for the sector."

[Ente] "Remember. In their own minds all people are their own heroes, defender of their own beliefs."

[Ente] "There are no good people, and there are no bad people. There are just people."

3.8 Rebel Station

Rok speaks to the group.

[Rok] "Well done, all of you."

He turns to Ente who looks visibly uncomfortable. Rok bears a slightly sinister look.

[Rok] "Welcome to the Rebel Base Ente. We will soon have a little chat you and me."

There is something very unsettling in is voice. He turns to the group of rebel pilots again.

"I will keep in touch. Come back soon, there will definitely be more to do in the near future."

He and Ente leaves the room. While Ente passes he quickly whispers to you.

[Ente] "Good luck"

3.9 Outside Rebel Station

[Sair] "We should go to that information hub he was speaking about."

[Sair] "And if what he said about the Murt meteorite is true.. Hiding it might be the correct option."

[Sair] "Let's not contact Ai just yet.."

[Sair] "It looks like we are followed. We can't lead them to the information hub."

[Sair] "Either we'll have to shake them off, or we will have to make sure they can't follow us anymore."

...
[Sair] "They won't stop following us. We will need to do something about them."

...
[Rebel] "What are you doing? I will report this to the command!"
... Dispatching followers ...
[Sair] "That was all of them."
... Closing in to the information hub ...

[Sair] "This must be it. Well hidden, indeed!"

3.2 At information hub

[Sair] "So, let's see what we have here. I'll enter the password we got from Ente.."

[Sair] "..."

[Sair] "We have access."

[Sair] "..."

[Sair] "..."

[Sair] "Interesting. It's a lot of information here about both the Alliance and the rebels."

[Sair] "It seems like the official story about how the Alliance came to power might be slightly.. altered."

[Sair] "Yes, they came to power through an election. But the elections doesn't seem to have been as free as they claim..."

[Sair] "The rebels on the other hand seems to have started as an anarchist organization, attempting to 'liberate' the sector through spreading chaos and disorder."

[Sair] "They seem to have gradually adapted over time to be more... presentable... for the people around here."

[Sair] "But that's not why we are here. I wish we had found this place earlier..." (Hint about a side-mission?)

[Sair] "I think I have found their information about Murt."

[Sair] "It seems like after they increased the range of their scanners, they started to pick up huge signals from a particular asteroid outside New Norland."

[Sair] "That must be it. I have recorded the coordinates. Now we only need to find data on that cloak-technology.."

[Sair] "..."

[Sair] "Here it is. Quite recently they started to develop a cloaking technology on another outpost close to Peyé."

[Sair] "We should go there immediately. I have downloaded the data. I will process it on the way."

[Sair] "I have marked the coordinate on the map. I will tell you more during travel."

3.1 Travelling to coordinate

[Sair] "Ente's logic seems to hold."

[Sair] "This energy source would be a significant asset in restoring this sector."

[Sair] "Also, its power must be handled with care. Otherwise, it will lead to more destruction than good."

[Sair] "The best course of action is definitely to hide the Murt."

[Sair] "We should hurry. If Ente leaks... This would quickly get out of hand."

3.2 At the coordinate

[Sair] "This must be it."

[Sair] "The place seems to be abandoned though..."

[Sair] "Last time we were here the area were swarmed with Alliance ships. What's going on?"

[Sair] "This must be the radar-distortion device. Let's leave now."

3.3 Leaving the coordinate

[Sair] "We have incoming messages!"

[Ai] "Where are you? You are needed urgently."

[Ai] "A huge rebel fleet is heading towards an asteoid belt outside New Norrland."

[Ai] "We believe that it has something to do with the Murt. They must have managed to extract something from that scientist."

[Ai] "We didn't anticipate how quickly they would react, and they are so many.."

[Ai] "We are gathering what ships we can at the location X. You should abandon all current missions and travel there immediately. Over and out."

...

[Sair] "It seems like Ente leaked after all. This is not good."

[Sair] "They don't know the exact location though. We still have a small lead."

[Sair] "If we get there before they start scanning the belt we might still manage to hide it. Let's go now."

...

[Sair] "Another message..."

[Rok] "We need your help."

[Rok] "The chat with the scientist guy provided us with some really interesting information."

[Rok] "According to him there is a huge gathering of Murt somewhere in an asteroid belt outside New Norrland. We are travelling there right now to investigate."

[Rok] "The Alliance seems to have picked up on it too. We need to hurry."

[Rok] "We are gathering close to the belt. You should travel there immediately. See you there."

[Sair] "Interesting situation. We should hurry. It's might be already be too late."

[Sair] "What should we do now? What can we do now?"

[Sair] "I need to process this information further."

...

[Sair] "So. Summarizing the situation."

[Sair] "Both rebels and the Alliance know^s about the Murt asteroid."

[Sair] "The rebels roughly know^s it whereabouts, and the Alliance knows that the rebels know^s."

[Sair] "If the rebels get control over it, they will use it to fight back against the Alliance."

[Sair] "With the Murt, they would probably win in the end. It is highly uncertain how the sector would look with them in control."

[Sair] "If on the other hand the Alliance get control over it, they will use it to subdue the rebels in the sector."

[Sair] "They would succeed, and could then take total control over the sector."

[Sair] "It would probably mean peace, under their control. People would have to live according to their rules."

...

[Sair] "Another, desperate, alternative is to destroy the Murt itself."

[Sair] "It is unstable. If we put it under intense fire, it would start a chain reaction leading to an enormous explosion."

[Sair] "This would eradicate everyone in the meteor belt, and probably scar New Norrland badly."

[Sair] "It would also destroy something that could be used to help the people of this sector."

[Sair] "Status quo is upheld. But what kind of status quo?"

...

[Sair] "They still don't know the exact location of Murt. Our information could be very useful for any side."

[Sair] "Should we try to help either the rebels or the Alliance?"

[Sair] "Or should we try to take it in our own hands? Destroying the Murt."

[Sair] "I can't calculate this. What is the best path? What should we do?"

3.2 Arrival at Asteroid belt

[Sair] "We are here."

[Sair] "This one is up to you."

[Rok] "We were here before the Alliance, and we will probably get to the Murt before them. But it might not be enough."

[Rok] "They have a stronger force here, so if we aren't fast enough, they might be able to overtake the Murt by force before we are able to start using it."

1 Rebel ending

After that the rebels took control over Murt, they intensified their raids against the Alliance. Soon they controlled New Norrland, Lavis and much of the interspatial territory. The Alliance was initially paralyzed, losing battle after battle. But after a while they started putting up harder resistance. The rebels became the stronger faction, but as their power grew they became more and more fractured. Soon the rebels splitted in three different factions, all with different beliefs about how to rule the system. The war went on for a long time.

At the same time, the rebels and the Alliance managed to agree on keeping a no-war-zone around Peye. There, research could focus on how to use the Murt to help the people of the sector. They managed to create technology that could yield food for millions of people. People weren't starving anymore.

You and Sair continue to travel the sector. Maybe you are helping people, maybe not. Sometimes you wonder if you made the best choice. You will never know.

But you know that you did what you could.

The End

2 Alliance ending

After that the Alliance got Murt under their control they slowly started stabilizing the sector part by part. The rebels initially put up fierce resistance, throwing whatever they had against the Alliance force, but it was in vain.

People started leaving the rebels, quicker and quicker, getting back to trying to get their everyday lives around. The remaining rebel fleets that put up resistance were easily defeated and disbanded.

After the defeat of the rebels the Alliance started using part of the Murt to build and organize policing forces that were spread out over the entire sector. Their purpose was to make sure that events like this would never happen again. They started controlling the information flow in the sector. It was peace, but it was a forced peace.

At the same time, the Alliance gave parts of the Murt to the scientists on Peye who started researching how to use the Murt to help the people of the sector. Together they managed to create technology that could yield food for millions of people. People weren't starving anymore.

You and Sair continue to travel the sector. Maybe you are helping people, maybe not. Sometimes you wonder if you made the best choice. You will never know.
